

Transport Distribution & Tank Wash Business for Sale Blenheim

Unique trucking business - owner seeks retirement

Providing creative transport solutions to the region's critical industry.

Combining a transport distribution business with a truck and tank wash facility. This business performs consistently with excellent revenue generated by servicing the wine industry, while offering other truck and trailer transport solutions. The gross returns to the working owner are very generous with further opportunity for growth and expansion in the region. The business is also ideally positioned to combine with existing distribution businesses for excellent economies of scale.

Sales are generated by transporting wine on behalf of the producers as well as renting out the vital assets to other distributors. Extra sales are generated by transporting various other forms of liquids associated with beverage and food production both locally and regionally. The asset ledger includes a range of truck types and tank sizes, with a unique range of alternative tank options to suit both low and high-volume capacities and wine varieties. The trailers are also ideal for moving a range of products, supplies and equipment

The facilities have been designed and built to suit the market needs relative to truck size, type, and trailer configuration. With the ability to service a range of tank shapes and sizes. A favourable lease for the property and facilities will be offered to the business purchaser, with freehold options available to the right buyer if appropriate.

Currently owner managed while making use of contract drivers based on demand and seasonality, therefore fixed overheads are very low for this business. Retirement beckons, so an excellent time for a new owner to take advantage of the set up and enjoy the very generous surplus available.

Vendor's instructions are to seek all offers and negotiate a win / win outcome for all parties.
