Wholesaler of Solar Products – A Bright Future!

Are you looking for a business in the fast-growing energy sector with established supplier agreements and a long standing client base?

Solar Partners is a premier solar product distributor providing solar solutions for their clients in retail, commercial, installations, repairs and servicing. Solar Partners has arrangements with global suppliers ensuring best-in-class products tested to the highest international standards of quality, supported by stable profits and growth potential.

Key Business Highlights

The business has distribution rights to premium solar products, and in-house staff with industry knowledge and technical experience.

The industry has plenty of support from major banks with green energy loans providing residential customers and solar installers incentive to transition, a tailwind to the business.

In the current climate with homeowners seeking to reduce costs and achieve energy independence, there's an accelerating trend of solar installations (number of and MW), providing further tailwinds for a new owner.

Located in New Zealand's fastest growing city, Hamilton, driven by its robust economy and increasing population, signals a thriving market for new business. This growth is advantageous for a solar wholesaler, as the expanding economy and rising energy demands create ample opportunities for sustainable energy solutions, particularly with the Ruakura superhub and potential for commercial rooftop installations.

The vendors of Solar Partners would like us to present all reasonable offers, and for clarity no vendor finance arrangements are available.
