

Import Distribution Business for Sale Auckland

A Champagne Opportunity in Import Distribution

This business has been bringing the best of independent, boutique Champagne from France to discerning New Zealand consumers for close to a decade. The range of Champagne brands is in national retail distribution (under supplier contract) and there's an online division for direct sales. Stock is held in a leased storage facility.

The business is run from a home office by a couple, working part time. The owners' primary functions are coordination of an exclusive national, trained team of in-store promotional/tasting contractors and management of the retailer and supplier commercial relationships.

Business growth has arrived at the point where the vendors want to see the business in good hands as they enter retirement. They will provide a good level of transitional vendor assistance. The owners anticipate that stock value at settlement will be in the order of $700,000 reflecting indicative orders and festive season demand.
