Successful Manufacturing Business Making $728,000

Words cant do this business justice when it comes to describing the opportunity that this business could potentially offer an aspiring entrepreneur with the vision and skills to take this business to greater success!

Whilst already a well-established, financially successful business which has embraced ongoing annual growth, particularly subsequent to Covid, and as such has provided the owner of the business the opportunity to demonstrate the results of those underlying entrepreneurial business strategies which have seen the manufacturing processes, product diversity and customer satisfaction levels grow along side annual increases in sales revenues and levels of profitability.

The vision for this business future in terms of ongoing growth would likely benefit from a new owner who might bring to this business their own vision and strong marketing skills to support same.

With a net cash surplus (E.B.P.I.T.D.) last financial year of in excess of $728,000; historical annual sales growth; growth in gross profit margins and net cash profits, one might be excused with an initial focus on the business financial attractiveness, amongst other day-to-day things, in todays economic circumstances without having perhaps given serious consideration to the real potential of this business which might originate from the creativity of a new owners forward vision for this business.
