2025 Already Belongs to New Owners of this Business.

Long-established, financially stable and profitable, engineering business, has multiple revenue streams underpinning a history of financial stability and success; expected to continue, given the quality of its existing engineering and other relevantly qualified staff.

What better illustration of the business capability in this respect than its achievement over the last 4 years since COVID 19 had its economic impact on businesses in general, where this business continued to experience a year-on-year increase in multimillion dollar annual revenue as a result of the diversity of its revenue streams as well as its ability to continue to provide its industry recognized, reliability delivering quality customer focused services despite the pandemic, a significant factor underpinning the retention and growth of its valued customer base.

This is a rare opportunity to acquire a well-established engineering business, strategically located in a busy growth area providing good access to its historically long-term suppliers as well as to its current long-term customer base, with an option of leasing the said premises or acquiring ownership thereof.

Would suit an owner with a strong engineering background with experience in areas such as light engineering, machining and welding, hydraulics and pneumatics, light fabrication, equipment service and repair, supply of spare parts.
