

Industrial Manufacturing Business for Sale Taranaki

Manufacturing and engineering production business.

Well established manufacturing business been operating in excess of 25 years, not only producing its own range of fabricated metal products marketed nationally but provides businesses with high-quality, cost-effective production options. In addition, it provides some of the country's blue chip entities with professional engineering advice and assistance helping with everything from the concept to design and assembly efficiencies through to assisting those clients, where necessary, with professional advice on marketing and selling of their products.

A business which navigated itself through Covid at a time when the owner, close to retirement, recognised the business would benefit from a new owner, with that requisite youthful passion and enthusiasm, whose vision would reinvigorate future growth in an upward direction.

Seldom, if ever, do business opportunities such as this one come onto the market at such a potentially, financially attractive price, in this case, estimated to be $695,000 (inclusive of $400,000 of stock). Whilst opportunities such as this are extremely rare, the real questions here for a potentially interested new owner might relate to the new owner's degree of youthful passion, his experience and skill sets, and most importantly the new owner's vision to take this business' level of upward sales growth and profitability towards its future success.
