

Surveying Business for Sale Rotorua

If you are a Licensed Cadastral Surveyor looking for an opportunity to build your own business without the risk of starting from scratch, then this business is for you.....

Stamm Surveys, a well established surveying business with 28 years of history in Rotorua, is now ready for a new owner to take it to the next level. The owners, Symon and Bonnie Stamm are ready to move on to focus on other areas of their lives, and are looking for a successor who can grow and develop the business into the potential it has.

With a loyal and diverse variety of clients, ranging from; residential property owners wanting to subdivide, architects needing topographical plans, local authorities requesting detailed surveys, property developers creating large-scale new developments, commercial and industrial customers requiring specialised surveys, Maori landowners wishing to develop their land, to engineers requiring set-out, there are endless opportunities to grow this business.

The business comes with modern surveying equipment, and a loyal team who are keen to welcome a new owner with fresh ideas and vision.

There are good, sound, efficient business systems, with around 6 months of work ahead of them with current resources.

The new owner would ideally be an enthusiastic Licensed Cadastral Surveyor under the Cadastral Surveyors Licensing Board of New Zealand, or be prepared to hire a person with these qualifications.
