This is a unique opportunity to secure an established and successful HR, recruitment and people development business located on the West Coast of the South Island.

The business would suit someone with an HR/recruitment background looking to go out on their own or an established HR/recruitment company looking for an acquisition into the growing West Coast region. It is worth noting the business has no competition!

The business delivers a range of quality HR and recruitment solutions as well as bespoke educational programs. There is a diverse range of clients with the business's revenue underpinned by contracted revenue.

- Award-winning brand
- Capable and experienced staff in place
- Government contracts
- Untapped potential to provide more services/new income streams

The current owner is available to assist a new owner to ensure a smooth transition and if required to stay on as manager. This is a great business which is very profitable with identified opportunities to grow the services, revenue and profits!
